

BACKEND .NET DEVELOPER (m/f/d)

Graz, Austria | 38.5h

JOB DESCRIPTION

- Close collaboration with the rest of the team and the Solution Architect to achieve a clean Service-Oriented Architecture
- Translate this architecture into design proposals and then into solid .NET code, with a lot of room for creative solutions
- Support the consumers of our services and the technical support team
- Active participation in meetings as well as presenting new suggestions, strategies, technologies and ideas

QUALIFICATIONS

- Completed technical education (FH, TU) or equivalent professional experience in computer science
- Minimum 2 years of solid work experience in software development
- Very interested in modern .NET frameworks and libraries (ASP.NET Core, various NuGet packages, etc.)
- Experience in the development of complete .NET backend applications in C# (ideally with .NET Core)
- Professional experience with SQL (ideally on SQL Server 2012+, application developer level, not DB developer level)
- Nice to have: Knowledge of frontend and native app technologies
- Good verbal and written communication skills, both in English and German
- Curiosity to learn more about the latest technologies/techniques
